DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of Species B in the reply filed on January 11, 2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claims 1-29 are drawn to species B and will be examined.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "plurality of brake componenets" must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The "conflict resolution scheme" and "control schemes" are critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not described in a way to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains to make and use the invention. Further, the manipulation of sensor information for a vehicle can vary significantly depending on the type of information received by the sensor and it is impossible to determine from applicant's claims and specification in what way the information from the claimed sensors is used in the "control schemes". Finally, applicant does not describe the "first brake component comprising a first type of brake component" and "a second brake component comprising a second type of brake component.” Therefore, operation of the “components” is non-enabling.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kornhaas et al.

Re claims 1-29, Kornhaas et al. teach a plurality of brake components comprising performance sensors (30, 32, 36, 40) a central control unit (20) receiving sensor signals from at least one vehicle performance sensor and generating central control signals for controlling the plurality of brake components based on the received sensor signals, a distributed electronic control unit (22) receiving sensor signals from the at least one vehicle performance sensor and generating local control signals for controlling some of the plurality of brake components based on the received sensor signals and a conflict resolution scheme (via 24) for resolving conflicts between the central control signals and the local control signals.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3683

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Diehle et al. teaches a brake system comprising a central control unit, a distributed electronic control unit and a conflict resolution scheme.
